Why treatment cycles may be cancelled

An IUI or DI treatment cycle is considered complete once insemination has been performed. Our data shows that up to 20% of IUI/ DI cycles are cancelled before insemination. This can be for various reasons, including:

- Over or under response to medication
- Illness
- Change in personal circumstances causing patient/ partner to withdraw
- Patient/ partner withdrawal of consent
- Partner unable to produce semen sample on day of treatment (IUI only)
- Semen sample not suitable on day of treatment (IUI only)
- Service availability

Costed Treatment Plan

Service availability

NUH Life operates a 6 day a week treatment service for most weeks of the year. There is no treatment service available on a Sunday, for two weeks over Christmas and other planned periodic closures throughout the year (patients will be informed in advance). There are no ultrasound scans available at the weekend or on Bank Holidays.

The team makes every possible effort to schedule and manage cycles to avoid closures. However, if treatment cannot proceed due to service availability, the standard treatment package cancellation policy will apply. Cancellation fees cover the cost of medication, staff, consumables and other resources already used in the cycle.

What happens if your cycle is cancelled

If your treatment cycle is cancelled for any reason, the applicable cancellation fee will be retained from the prepaid amount:
